
Chicago Tribune, Nevada's brothels get tough look, by Kirsten Schamberg

Wednesday, 10 October 2007

SPARKS, Nev. - While the men watch from plushly upholstered sofas, a dozen women make their entrances into the upscale parlor. One by one, they introduce themselves in practiced, sultry voices, then line up against a strategically mirrored wall.

Good evening, gentlemen," says a stunning blond in revealing lingerie. "I'm J.R. Carrington."

read more